WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section partly cloudy tonight. Saturday threatening rain; light to fresh north-easterly winds.

DEATH OF JUDGE CRITCHER.—Judge John Critcher died at his home on North Alfred street at 11:50 o'clock this morning. The deceased was in his 82d year. He had been failing in health recently, but had kept on his feet as long as possible, and persisted in devoting his attention to his legal practice. The powers of nature, however, were running down and organic weakness developed which for a time had confined him to his home. He continued to weaken and this morning the end of a long and busy life was brought to a close. He leaves a widow and four children and one son and three daughters. His funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Judge Critcher for half a century had been a prominent figure in the judicial and political history of Virginia. He was born at Waterview, Westmoreland county, Va., March 11, 1820, being the son of John Critcher, a well-known planter of that neighborhood, and was reared at the family mansion which had been occupied by his ancestors for over two centuries. After attending schools in the neighborhood and in different parts of the State he was a student at the University of Virginia where he studied law for which he manifested a remarkable aptitude. In early life he went to Europe with George Tucker, author of the Life of Thomas Jefferson, where he continued his studies. He witnessed some of the most exciting debates in the British House of Commons while abroad and was in Paris when the remains of Napoleon were brought from St. Helena and placed in the Invalides. In 1842, having returned to his native country, he began the practice of law in his old home, and subsequently married Miss Lizzie Whiting, of Hampton, Va., who survives him with the three children alluded to above. Just before the war between the States Judge Critcher was elected to the State senate, representing Westmoreland, Northumberland, Lancaster and Richmond counties and was engaged in important work for his district and State. At the breaking out of the war he had become prominent in the political field, and was one of the few who were opposed to secession. He was elected to the state convention in early part of 1861 on that issue, but subsequently as the feeling became more bitter between the two sections of the country and it became certain that the Old Dominion was to be invaded by a hostile army, he, like others, originally opposed to secession, voted to dissolve the relations existing between Virginia and the general government. At the breaking out of hostilities he was a member of the State Senate and convention and enlisted as a private in the Confederate army, serving in that capacity for about a year. At the end of the war he was a colonel, and at times commanded a brigade of cavalry. At the close of the war the deceased with R. M. T. Hunter, A. H. H. Stuart and others was summoned to Richmond by President Lincoln to assist in the reorganization of the State government. Later Governor Fairbank sent his nomination as Judge of the 8th judicial district to the Legislature. His nomination was confirmed and he filled the position for about three years and in November, 1870, was elected to Congress from the First Virginia district, taking his seat in March of the following year. In June, 1884, Judge Critcher became a resident of Alexandria, where he had since resided. He had for years enjoyed an extensive law practice, having been retained on some of the most important cases which have of late years come before the United States Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals of Virginia. During his residence in this city he had made many friends and acquaintances. Quiet, gentlemanly and approachable by all, he has moved in our midst respected and esteemed, and the members of his family who are plunged in sorrow by the decease of a kind husband and fond parent have the sympathy of the entire community.

POLICE COURT.—There were four cases before the Police Court this morning. John Penn, who had been arrested by Officer Griffin for drunken and disorderly conduct, was the first prisoner placed in the dock. He was fined $5. George Wanzar, a colored individual, who had been arrested by Officer Travis, was next made to face the bar. He was charged with drunken and vulgar conduct. The prisoner had vainly accused the officer in a familiar and impudent manner and finally became abusive and defiant. When the officer took hold of him he hugged a tree. He was pulled away and taken to the station house. The Mayor fined him $5.

THE OYSTER SUPPLY.—Capt. Thomas C. B. Howard, commander of the Maryland Oyster Navy, has just completed a trip over the oyster grounds and is confident that the coming season will be much better than that of last year. He says there are more oysters in the upper bay than there has been for years. The reports from the various points indicate that the supply is unusually large, although down the bay the oysters are poor, but there is a good catch. Captain Howard says in the Potomac river the bottom is literally covered with a young growth of oysters and he believes that the oyster season of 1901 will be one of the best of years.

NO SUCH SCENE.—Wm. H. Brooks, colored, who in the Fairfax court last week was sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary for killing William Harris, will, at the next term of that court, be put on trial for an assault with intent to kill. The story published after his last trial stating that the mother of Brooks was so grateful to the attorney who defended her son that she "rushed forward and embraced and kissed him before he could prevent it" turns out to have been without foundation. No such scene occurred.

THE OVERALL FACTORY.—There are now about one hundred people employed by Mr. J. R. Zimmerman in the manufacture of overalls. A large percentage of those on the pay rolls who do not find it convenient to work in the factory are allowed to take goods to their homes and make them up, and in this way all the work possible is kept in Alexandria. There is employment for more, as the demand for the manufactured articles is steadily increasing. A laundry department, in which a number of young colored women are employed, has been added to the factory.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—A called meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Auditor's office last night to consider the resignation of J. Johnson Green. His resignation was accepted. Mr. Green resigned owing to the fact that other business prevented him from attending the meetings of the board. The vacancy will be filled at the next meeting. The board will make an inspection of the city next Monday afternoon.

SUDDEN DEATH.—News was received in this city last night of the sudden death of George A. Kinison, a former Alexandria, who resided at Neabco Mills, Prince William county. Mr. Kinison was about fifty years of age, and is survived by a widow. The deceased was well-known in this city where he passed the earlier portion of his life and where many of his relatives reside.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.—Take LAXATIVE BROMO-QUININE TABLETS. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. GIBSON'S signature is on each box. 25c.

George W. Lane, Pawam, Mich., writes: "Four Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid." For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

COUNTY COURT.—Judge J. M. Love presiding. Continuation of yesterday's proceedings. The grand jury yesterday returned the following additional indictment: William Bowers, fraudulently converting property to his own use. Shelton Carter, cruelty to animals.

Commonwealth vs. Robert Dent.—Pendleton, indicted for horse stealing; plea of insanity, jury and verdict of guilty and prisoner sentenced to serve four years in the penitentiary. The trial of Ralph Elsey, charged with breaking into the house of Stephen D. Phillips, near Falls Church, was set for trial today to which time the court adjourned.

Today's proceedings.—Com. vs. Ralph Elsey, indicted for house breaking, jury and verdict of guilty and penalty fixed at four years in the penitentiary.

Com. vs. M. Lawler and J. A. Geary.—Indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, jury and verdict of guilty and each fined $100 and costs. A rule was issued against Jerry Dugan, indicted for the same offense, to appear in court on Monday.

Jesse P. Reid, a justice of the peace of the county, who was indicted for converting to his own use $250 of State funds, was brought before the court and gave bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance for trial.

A capias was issued against Wm. Bowers to appear in court on Monday.

A. L. I.—The annual inspection of the Alexandria Light Infantry was held in Armory Hall last night by Col. Jo Lane Stern, Inspector general of the State militia, of Richmond. Colonel Stern was assisted in the inspection by Major William M. Smith, of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, who was present with his adjutant, Lieut. W. M. King, and Sergeant Major Thomas J. Nugent, of his staff. Capt. Ashby Miller, quartermaster of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, was also present. There were forty-seven members in line, and they presented a very creditable appearance and showed that they were well drilled, as was attested by Col. Stern, who complimented the command for its proficiency. The inspection was generally admitted to have been a very satisfactory one. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present at the inspection.

RED MEN.—The regular council fire of Osceola Tribe No. 1, I. O. O. F. M., was held at their wigwam last night. All routine business having been disposed of, Segmund Genzberger, grand chief of the tribe, of Montana, gave an interesting account of the growth and flourishing condition of the order in the far West. Mr. Genzberger who has, as representative of his State, been in attendance on the Great Council of the United States held in New York, will remain in this city a few days on a visit to his parents, and many friends of his boyhood days before returning to his distant home.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.—The meeting of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons last night was one of the most interesting that has taken place for a long time. There were more than an average number in attendance, and all present were deeply interested. The feature which added interest to the meeting was the memorial services in respect to the memory of the late President McKinley, an honored member of the craft. Addresses were made by Rev. Meers, Phillips, Register and Ewell, and Past Grand Master Wm. H. Lambert. The remarks of each were feeling and impressive, and were listened to with close attention by all present.
